 - b. Negotiation is the process of conferring, discussing, or bargaining to reach an agreement.
 - c. Arbitration is the process of using a third party or parties to hear both sides of a dispute and make a decision regarding settlement of the dispute.
- 5. The steps involved in each type of the above conflict management techniques.
 - a. Mediation
 - (1). Each person states his/her position briefly to the neutral third party (deputy). They do not speak to each other directly until the mediator directs them to do so.
 - (2). The deputy elicits suggestions from the disputants as to how the problem may be solved. "There must be some way to solve this problem. Make a reasonable suggestion."
 - (3). The deputy checks each proposed solution with the other disputant until there is acceptance or compromise.

(4). The deputy should avoid criticizing offered solutions, even if he/she doesn't agree.

(5). The deputy summarizes the agreement that is reached.

(6). The deputy encourages the disputants to act on the solution and leave.

b. Negotiation – defined as parties involved in exchanging information to gain a benefit or resolve a dispute, crisis, etc. Should be used when mediation fails.

(1). Each person states his/her position briefly.

(2). Negotiator (deputy) offers possible compromises to the disputants in a neutral, non-defensive way.

(3). When compromise is reached, the deputy summarizes the agreement for the parties involved and leaves. In a court setting, the deputy observes the parties periodically to see that they are keeping to the agreement.

c. Arbitration – defined as a third party who determines the solution to a dispute and imposes that solution on all parties involved.

(1). This is a last resort technique.

(2). Here the deputy imposes a solution on the disputants based on knowledge of the subject matter and policies of the sheriff's office related to the type of dispute they are having.

(a) The deputy identifies the solution that will resolve the dispute at hand.

(b) The deputy presents the options and consequences for not agreeing to resolve the dispute as directed.

(c) The deputy communicates his/her responsibility if the disputants do not follow directions.

(d) The deputy relates any applicable laws and/or policies and consequences of continued acts that break either of these.

(e) The deputy explains clearly that the parties must comply with the law or policies or suffer the consequences.

d. Referral - this can be combined with any of the other techniques. The deputy identifies services that may be able to help the disputants (counseling, etc.).

6. Negotiating, mediating or arbitrating the conflict or crisis situation

a. Identify that no physical violence has taken place. If physical violence has taken place, follow policy and procedures for the type of crime committed.

b. Maintain all safety precautions. Back up arriving on scene must not disrupt efforts of first deputy but should take direction and support the first deputy. Primary goal is to keep the peace and not let parties become physically violent.

c. Diffuse the situation by separating the parties and explaining that you need to know the facts relating to the dispute. Each person will have a chance to speak, but you will set the rules for talking. (This is part of mediation.) They will be stating their positions but doing it through you. You will follow the steps outlined for mediation.

d. If you perceive the parties are too agitated, take each to a different area (the first deputy and a backup officer need to work together to do this). This will be a negotiation.

e. Each officer must listen carefully to the explanation by each party separately to identify what their common interest is. Ask them to identify some alternatives to which both might agree. Officers should confer before reuniting the parties.

f. Bring the parties back together to discuss alternatives that may resolve the dispute. They must come to an agreement on the alternative for resolving their dispute. You will summarize this and tell them they will be observed for complying with this choice.

g. Recognize when mediation or negotiation conflict management techniques will not produce the desired result. Serve as an arbitrator in this case and make the decision for the parties following agency policy for uncooperative inmates/arrestees.

h. If conflict management techniques are producing the desired result, advise the parties they can return to their normal routine.

Criteria: The trainee shall be tested on the following:

- 3.7.1. Define crisis, victim and stress.

3.7.2. Identify three stages of stress reactions.

3.7.3. Identify common characteristics of stress.

3.7.4. Identify methods of handling stress.

Lesson Plan Guide: The lesson plan shall include the following:

1. Define crisis, victim and stress.

a. Crisis – a crisis is a decisive or crucial time, stage or event that represents a turning point in the course of anything.

b. Victim – a person who is harmed by or suffers a loss through some act, condition or circumstance.

c. Stress is the body's non-specific response to any demand placed on it.(Hans Seyle, M.D.) Individuals should learn as much as possible about their individual reactions to stress as this will provide the basis for enhancing their ability to manage their stress. What are some non-specific responses that your body gives in reaction to demands you place on it?

2. Coping with crisis (stress reactions)

a. Five general coping behaviors

(1). Cognitive strategies (thinking ahead, or pre-planning how you would act if faced with a certain situation)

(2) Verbal strategies (talking your way out of a situation)

(3). Physical strategies (fight or flight)

(4). Psychological defense (fight or flight)

(5). Physiological reaction (numerous possibilities; crying, red face, clenched teeth or fists, etc.)

b. Six observable coping strategies exhibited by victims

(1). High anxiety (emotional state at crisis impact)

(2). Denial (can't believe it's happening)

(3). Anger (upset because they did not deserve this)

(4). Remorse (feeling of guilt. . .could have possibly prevented it "if only I had not. . .")

(5). Grief (abject sadness, helplessness, and hopelessness felt by victim)

(6). Reconciliation – After working through grief the desire to "put it behind" and go on with life.

3. Identify three stages of stress reactions.

a. The alarm stage: This occurs when the body reacts to the stressor with a physical reaction. These include the following:

(1). Increased breathing rate

- (2). Increased heart rate
- (3). Increased metabolism rate
- (4). Increased oxygen in the blood
- (5). Increased sugar in the blood
- (6). Increased serum lipids
- (7). Increased serum cholesterol
- (8). Increased blood flow to the muscles
- (9). Increased clotting mechanism of the blood
- (10). Decreased digestion
- (11). Decreased inflammatory response
- (12). Decreased immune response

b. The resistance stage: This occurs after the stressor is gone and the body works to repair the damage caused by stress.

c. The exhaustion stage: This occurs when stressors are prolonged and the body remains in an alarm stage condition with no time to repair itself exhaustion sets in.

4. Identify common characteristics of stress.

- a. Mental or physical tension
- b. Sense of pressure or urgency

5. Identify methods of handling stress.

a. Physical activity helps to manage stress. Keeping your body in good shape as a general rule gives you confidence in your physical skills and assists with mental alertness. Simple exercises to relieve muscles that may tense up from working long periods in certain positions are also helpful. Shoulder rolls, head rolls, standing, stretching, arm circles, etc., can be done periodically throughout the day to help provide some physical relief. This, in turn, helps to manage stress.

b. Communicate with co-workers or loved ones about the stress of a work day. Just be sure not to break confidentiality of information when doing so. Giving and receiving support through sharing stressful feelings helps in managing stress.

c. Recognize limits. If a situation at work is beyond your control and cannot be changed, learn to accept this.

d. Take care of yourself. Eat and sleep properly. Good nutrition and proper rest are important factors for everyone in managing stress. Lack of proper nutrition affects mental capability. Lack of proper rest may quickly make a person less tolerant of situations that otherwise would be manageable.

e. Have fun. Time for things you enjoy doing is important for relaxation and helping to keep a balanced outlook. Without this, you may react much more negatively to calls for service than is appropriate.

- f. Breathe. Taking slow, deep breaths periodically can both help you relax and help keep you calm in a crisis situation. Use this breathing technique to aid your mental focus.
 - g. Cry. When a situation has deeply affected you, tears provide a good release for anxiety. When you have shed these, you will be better able to cope.
 - h. Use mental imagery. You can create a special, quiet place in your mind that will help you manage stress. You can go there even when you are working and use that imagery to help you get through a difficult caller or situation.
 - i. Avoid self-medication. Avoid drugs in general, but if you are taking any prescription drugs, follow the directions and do not take extras. Drugs, even non-prescription ones, can be habit forming and create more stress than they relieve.
 - j. Be positive. Focus on the good things about the world, life, and people. Negative thinking may result in negative talking and negative feelings that simply are not healthy for you, your co-workers, and your workplace. When there are differences, work in a proactive manner to resolve these.
 - k. Use positive self-talk. Think good thoughts about yourself. Give yourself a pat on the back when you've done something good. Positive thinking is one of the best tools you can use that will ultimately help you manage stress productively.
6. Identify resources that may be available to staff to help manage stress.
- a. Doctors
 - b. Faith base services
 - c. Community Services Board
 - d. Support services
